

The Rembrandt Booster (May 18, 1961)

Junior-Senior Affair Highlight of Season by Lois Wright

A definitely festive air projected as the juniors and the seniors of 1961 and the faculty members enjoyed a moonlight sonata consisting of Astrologist's specials, scalloped stardust, evening salad, dream-boat adrift, satellites, crescent moon and stardust, heavenly float, and heavenly mist. The occasion was, of course, the highlight of the social season, the junior-senior banquet and prom held Friday, May 12, at the Bradford Hotel in Storm Lake.

Class Night

Rembrandt Class of 1971 observed the traditional Class Night Friday evening in the school gym. There are seventeen High School graduates and nineteen Eighth Grade graduates. The Class of 71 motto, "We've Only Just Begun," was given a prominent place in the decorations scheme which was carried out in blue and silver. The class flower, blue carnation, had an honored place.

The seniors then took over with Nancy Boettcher as M.C. The Class history by Mark Wernimont, Class poem by Nancy Boettcher, Class Will by Kathy Kruckman, Class Prophecy by Karen Small, Class trip to Chicago Highlights by Cathy Cavanaugh and Sandra Klaws. "We've Only Just Begun" was sung by the class.

"Not my brother's keeper, but his brother" was emphasized by Rev. David Ide as he gave the Baccalaureate address Sunday evening to the class of 1971.

Karen Mickelson played the processional, and Rev. Ide gave the invocation. A mixed group from the music department sang.

After the address, Robert Bentley sang, "How Great Thou Art" with Karen Mickelson as accompanist. The hymn, "Beautiful Savior" was sung by the audience. Rev. Ide pronounced the benediction. With the recessional, the evening's program was closed.

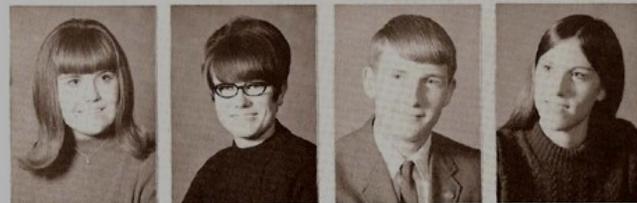

Graduation parties at the homes of the parents honoring the graduates were the order of the evening, Monday after the Commencement exercises. Several parties were held also on Sunday evening.

Commencement

Raymond D. Zinser, Ph. D., Professor of Sociology at Graceland College, and special lecturer for Drake University gave the Commencement address for the Class of 1971 at the Rembrandt school Monday evening. His address, "Imagination, Creativity and Reality," pointed up some of the "facts in the development of American culture and warned the need of its continued development, not its destruction. He most emphatically stressed that the class slogan, "We've Only Just Begun" would be found to be of greater truth than any of the class realized.

At the close of his talk, the auditorium was filled with applause until he stood and took a bow. Rev. Robert Hawley gave the invocation. The Salutatory Address, James Haraldson; Girls Sextet sang "Climb the Highest Mountain;" Valedictory Address, Jon Johnson; Supt. Frank Truesdell introduced the speaker, Dr. Zinser.

Supt. Truesdell presented the 17 members of the Class of 1971: Nancy Boettcher, Ann Breyfogle, Cathy Cavanaugh, Bette Dornsbach, Doyle Engebretson, Rebecca Gibbons, James Haraldson, Jon Johnson, Sandra Klaws, Kathy Kruckman, Lester Ness, John Olson, Mark Pitts, Cynthia Reefer, Carol Siefken, Karen Small, Mark Wernimont to Mr. Gibbons for their diplomas. As each student received his diploma, he was given a blue carnation which he presented to his parents.

After Rev. Hawley pronounced the benediction, the class formed a receiving line in front of the stage. Karen Mickelson played the processional and recessional music and accompanied the sextet.
